how far society has to go to protect people from their own stupidity is where the debate begins the effectiveness of avastin is based on improvement in objective response rate i think in every one of the competitive senate races, i heard the accusation: well, the house passed the prescription drug bill, but the senate didn't