if the available diet is deficient in a concentrated energy source such as fat or sugar, a child’s feedings should be increased to 4 or 5 times a day, to enable him to assimilate more